

Norman / Cusack

Religion, Pilgrimage, and Tourism

---

For as long as human beings have existed they have been interested in travel. Their homelands and cultural norms have always been constructed with reference to, or contrasted with, the lands and habits of 'the Other'. Implicit in this statement is the notion that some places are more special (perhaps sacred) than others, and this is the core of the intimate relationship between human beings, place and travel, and religion.

1239,50 €

1158,41 € (zzgl. MwSt.)

Lieferfrist: bis zu 10 Tage

---

Artikelnummer: 9781138014886

Medium: Buch

ISBN: 978-1-138-01488-6

Verlag: Routledge

Erscheinungstermin: 24.07.2014

Sprache(n): Englisch

Auflage: Erscheinungsjahr 2014

Serie: Critical Concepts in Religious Studies

Produktform: Gebunden

Gewicht: 2789 g

Seiten: 1618

Format (B x H): 156 x 234 mm

